

Are you a broker with a book of business looking for your next move?

Become a trusted partner!

Citynet is a young and progressive Lloyd's Wholesale broker which has doubled in size through organic growth during the last three years by attracting self-motivated Producers and their teams. We offer people the opportunity to grow their own accounts by providing them with an environment conducive to trading as well as market leading access to Underwriters.

What Citynet offers...

We are an equal opportunities employer. Our remuneration structure is very simple and straight forward. The financial incentives on offer are very competitive with no punitive deductions for "mysterious head office expenses" and are always paid as agreed. We offer the right individuals and/or teams a tremendous growth potential within our dynamic organisation.

We can help you make the right decision even if that means coming to an agreement with your current broking house.
