Dear Reader,

They say 'Time flies when you are having fun'. Here at Citynet, we could not agree more. The half-year mark is here and we have been busier than ever with performance highlights being hot, hot, hot (just like the weather) and out now. Have a peek here.

Who people are talking about...

Inga Beale. Lloyd's of London Chief Executive Officer, Dame Inga Beale, will step down from the organisation in 2019 after five years at the helm of the global insurance and reinsurance market. During her time at Lloyd's, she encouraged significant cultural change within the Corporation, as well as the adoption of new technology that has boosted the market's capabilities... What to say when your favourite pub shuts down...

I'm devastated. So is Germany, Argentina and Portugal. Oh, and Spain too! but not England... they're marching on! Watch this space.

Be Cyber Secure, not Cyber Insecure

In light of the latest cyber breach at Dixons Carphone, Citynet Insurance Brokers has few simple steps you need to consider in order to protect your business.

Cybersecurity doesn't have to be expensive, but one question remains...

On another note...

With the FIFA World Cup in full swing, here are a few facts you might or might not be aware of...

The FIFA World Cup is probably the World's most widely viewed sporting event.

As we are witnessing history at this years' tournament, with England winning on penalties against Columbia and going through to quarters while big players such as Germany, Portugal, Argentina and Spain not passing through the knock-out stages, please see below facts you probably did not know about this competition.

1930

The first World Cup was played in 1930. Uruguay was both the tournament host and winner that year

Jules Rimet

The World Cup was the brainchild of Jules Rimet, then president of FIFA. He even named the trophy after himself but the original Jules Rimet trophy was stolen. It was however recovered four months prior to the 1966 edition. The design we see today was introduced in 1974 and called the 'FIFA World Cup Trophy'

20

In the 20 previous editions of the World Cup, the team with most trophies is Brazil. They have won the competition on five occasions, taking the trophy home in 1958, 1962, 1970, 1994, 2002

Pele

Brazilian legend Pele is the only player who has won the World Cup thrice. He was part of Brazil's winning teams in 1958, 1962 and 1970. He is also the youngest goal scorer and winner of the tournament at just 17-years-old.

42

Roger Milla became the oldest goal scorer in the tournament when he scored Cameroon's only goal in their defeat to Russia in 1994. Milla was 42 at the time and was only picked for the national team following an intervention from the country's president

Baby Boom

The World Cup winning country is rumoured to see a baby boom nine months after the World Cup

1st

The first time in the FIFA World Cup history when England wins a penalty shootout. They've won against Columbia on 3rd July 2018.
